

Submission and Style Guidelines

- 1) When sending an article, the author commits himself to not simultaneously submit the article to another journal.
- 2) The authors grant their permission for their article to be spread by means that are considered appropriate by the editors, be it in print, digitised and on line.
- 3) The articles will be evaluated by academic peers by the method of double-blind.
- 4) The approbatory dictamination is a requirement in order to take a final decision by the Publishing Committee, that will be unappealable in all the cases
- 5) ECONOMÍA unam saves itself the right to make the publishing changes needed to adapt the texts according to the publishing politics of magazine
- 6) The works will have to be unpublished and to refer to topics of economy, economic history, finance, development, economic growth, and to other topics related with the social sciences
- 7) Works are admitted in Spanish and English and in other languages; to the translation of the text, the document will be annexed in its original language
- 8) The article should be sent in two copies, letter size, double-spaced and printed on one side only. Every page should contain between 23 and 25 lines (approximately 1600 characters) without corrections or crossings-out. The article, including its graphs, pictures and tables, must not exceed 30 pages in length.
- 9) The text should be accompanied by a 15 to 20-line resume of its contents in both Spanish and English whit its respective classification of the Journal of Economic Literature (JEL)
- 10) The printing of article should be processed in Word and must be accompanied of a device of storage, compact disk (CD), USB or to be sent by e-mail to economiaunam@unam.mx. All the information of the pictures, graphs and other materials of support must be sent in print, elaborated in Excel and include the files in an USB or be sent by e-mail. The supporting material should speak for itself, indicate the measuring units used and the bibliographical complete sources
- 11) Use the Harvard citation system: There surname of the author, initial letter of the name of the author, year of publication and the mentioned page in parenthesis, like appears later (Minsky, H. 1986: 15-18). In case of works of more than two authors it will be placed after the name et al. If the consultation was on line it will have to follow the following format: Surname, initial of the name of the author; year of publication, "title of the consulted topic ", name of the publication consulted in cursive [Type of way], publication date, availably in: electronic direction and [Date of access] example: GAZOL, A. (2015) "Grecia. Una crónica". Economía UNAM [online]. 2015, vol.12, n.36 [citado 2017-06-05], pp.49-61. Disponible en: <http://www.scielo.org.mx/scielo.php?script=sci\_arttext&pid=S1665-952X2015000300049&lng=es&nrm=iso>. ISSN 1665-952X.
- 12) The references at the end of the text (bibliography) will have to include the following information: author, collector, publisher or the institution responsible for the document; date of placed publication in parenthesis, title and subtitle of the work; written in cursive; number of series or individual volume, when the case is this; number of edition; City where it was published; Publisher; must include additional Information that allows the reader to locate the reference

- 13) At least once, the meaning of all abbreviations used in the article and appendices should be explained.
- 14) Every article should contain a cover page which presents the following information:
  - Complete name of the author(s) and nationality
  - Short academic and professional curriculum
  - Research area
  - Home and office addresses and telephone numbers
  - Fax number and email address
- 15) Collaborators from outside of the Metropolitan area of Mexico City will be able to send their articles by e-mail according to the previous specifications
16. Original copies will not be returned to the authors.