ANNOUNCEMENT

to participate in the selection process of China Scholarship Program for Research Studies Center China-Mexico 2019:

BASES

1. Researchers and academics of public and private education institutions of a higher level, public officials, non-governmental organizations, members of institutions or companies with proven experience in the analysis of China and whose profile may be related to the topics mentioned below may participate and submit proposals to improve knowledge about China in Latin America, the Caribbean and Mexico. The Scholarship Program is aimed at researchers of any nationality.
2. The objective of the Scholarship Program is to improve the quality of existing knowledge about China in LAC and to generate human resources from a long-term perspective based on researchers who already had proven experience on the proposed topics. The results seek to generate documents, information, projects, programs, publications and / or methodologies to improve the quality of knowledge about China for purposes relevant to academia, business organizations and / or the public sector in LAC; The expectation of the Program is to generate publishable results. The Scholarship Program emphasizes the importance of starting from existing knowledge on the specific subject and allowing a public learning process.
3. The specific research project can cover, from a multidisciplinary perspective, any field on China and the relationship between China and LAC, including historical, environmental, agricultural, social, cultural, economic, political and learning topics of Chinese, among many others. In all the proposals, researchers with proven antecedents and efforts on the respective topics will be prioritized, as well as those that integrate in their proposal a revision on the proposed topic and a clear and forceful justification.

4. The scholarship is individual and covers 20,000 pesos, national currency, monthly for up to five months in 2019; The scholarship does not cover any other aspect. During the research stay, Cechimex will offer, additionally, conditions to carry out its research in the Cechimex (access to libraries of the Cechimex and the UNAM, desk, internet, etc.).

5. It is an essential requirement that applicants have work and personal availability to conduct their research stay at Cechimex during the period of the scholarship.

6. Applicants interested in conducting a research stay at Cechimex for up to five months in 2019 must meet the following requirements:

a. Submit a research project for the period of stay of 3 pages (in Spanish or English) including the dates of the proposed stay at the Cechimex, schedule of activities, objectives, thematic justification, expected results and experience in the subject. It is important that the thematic justification explicitly responds to the objectives of the Scholarship Program.

b. Curriculum vitae of maximum 3 pages that include your current employment situation and that explicitly makes reference to personal, work and / or academic experience in the proposed topic (previous research, publications, etc.) and about China.

c. Official identification document.

d. Signing of commitment letter after the proposal has been accepted.

e. Research stays can start in August 2019 and must be completed in December 2019; It is important that applicants consider the academic calendar of UNAM.

f. The request with this information should be sent to the email: cechimex@unam.mx.

Interested persons can send applications immediately and until April 29, 2019 in pdf format. The results will be published on May 20, 2019. The decision of the Selection Committee will be final.
