PREFACE.

SEVENTEEN Years have elapsed since a series of Tables of Exchange has been presented to the Public; and, within that period, the Courses of Foreign Exchanges have undergone extraordinary and multifarious revolutions.

The last Work of this kind, that made its appearance, was the once highly valuable, and much esteemed production of Mr. Bewicke, in two volumes quarto: the alterations, however, which have recently occurred, not only in Politics, but in every branch of Commerce and Finance, have rendered that Author's labours wholly nugatory, and his Book has become obsolete.

The present extended Scale of Commercial Transactions, imperiously calls for a correct and Modern Edition of Tables of Foreign Exchanges; and the Editor of this Work trusts, that in submitting the following sheets to the Commercial World, he is complying with that requisition in the fullest extent.

On the present occasion the greatest possible pains have been taken, to render the NEW FOREIGN EXCHANGES deserving of the exalted patronage, and the unprecedented encouragement which have been bestowed upon them, by the most respectable characters of the first Commercial Country in the Universe. In procuring information connected with this compilation, recourse has been had to the highest and most undoubted authorities; and in reducing that information to practical purposes, no pains have been spared, no degree of talent left unsought for, that could by possibility contribute to the perfection of a Work so vitally important to the interests and convenience of the trading community. At the same time that he makes this statement, the Editor is aware that inaccuracies and errors of the Press, may occasionally occur in the course of his Work; and he will most thankfully receive any useful hints upon those points, in order to the completion of future Editions.

INTRODUCTION.

EXCHANGES are carried on by merchants and bankers in every place of Mercantile intercourse throughout the Universe. The mode of exchanging between one kingdom or nation and another is, the one gives the certain price, and the other the uncertain price of exchange: i. e. England gives the certain price, viz. one pound Sterling to France, for an uncertain number of Francs and Cents, to be paid or received there, and gives the same to Hamburg, Holland, and the Netherlands, for an uncertain number of schillings and pence Flemish, or of guilders and stivers; and to Bremen and other parts of Germany 100*l.* sterling for an uncertain number of Rixdollars; to Frankfort on the Main, one pound sterling for an uncertain number of Batzens; to Venice, the same for an uncertain number of Italian Livres; and she gives the uncertain price, viz. an uncertain number of pence and parts of pence to other nations: as for example, she gives from 55 to 74 pence sterling (more or less) to Lisbon, Oporto, Rio Janeiro, &c. for a millrea; from 30 to 40 pence sterling to Madrid, Cadiz, &c. for their piastre or dollar; from 40 to 52½ pence sterling to Genoa and Leghorn, for a pezzo or dollar of 5¼ livres banco at Genoa, and 6 livres at Leghorn; from 30 to 44 pence sterling to Naples for a ducat di Regno; from 9 to 16 pence sterling to Petersburg, &c. for a Rouble of 100 copecks; from 31 to 40½ pence sterling to Gibraltar for a current dollar of 8 rials of 16 quartos each; from 110 to 136 pence sterling to Palermo and Messina for an onza or ounce; from 44 to 54 pence sterling (more or less.) to Malta for a dollar of Exchange; and to Dublin and all parts of Ireland 100*l.* sterling for an uncertain number of pounds, shillings, and pence, Irish, as exchange may be. It may be here necessary to state that London exchanges on Gibraltar in current dollars, and that Gibraltar exchanges on London in hard or Mexican dollars, as will be seen in the annexed tables.

The par of Exchange (or par pro pari) is the intrinsic value of the different species of money on the Continent, equalized to those of England, and vice versa; as for instance, the par of Exchange between England and Ireland is 8½ per cent. or in other words, 108*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* Irish, are equal to 100*l.* English; the English shilling being current in that country for 13*d.* consequently the pound sterling is 11*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* therefore when the exchange from London on Dublin is 12 per cent. there is a profit or saving of 3*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per cent. on every 100*l.* sterling remitted to Ireland.

The course of exchange is always fluctuating, sometimes under, and sometimes over the par of exchange, and is chiefly governed by the balance of trade being for or against the negotiating parties; so that when the exchange is above par, the balance of trade is certainly against them, and when it is under par, it is consequently in their favour. If London ships to Hamburg merchandise to the amount of 500,000*l.* and at the same time Hamburg ships to London goods or merchandise to only the amount of 300,000*l.* Hamburg can only discharge to the amount of 300,000*l.* and for remaining balance of 200,000*l.* she must procure bills of exchange at the lowest possible premium elsewhere, in order to liquidate the debt due to London, as it is not to be supposed that Hamburg, being indebted to London, can furnish bills on equally good terms with another city not indebted to London. Thus Hamburg, by paying a premium of 1 per cent. for bills of exchange, would have to pay 202,000*l.* in order to liquidate the aforesaid balance of 200,000*l.* thereby losing 2000*l.* on the transaction. Thus it is that the balance of trade affects the fluctuation of exchanges. The principal exchanges of Europe are governed by those of London, Amsterdam, and Venice; and the exchanges from foreign countries are to be only had by advices from the merchants and bankers residing abroad. It frequently happens, that sums of money sent to the Continent for subsidies and the like purposes, have their influence on the course of exchange; as it enables the merchants resident there to keep down the exchange, were they even obliged to remit over their balances in cash. When England remits to Spain, Portugal, or Italy, or any other kingdom or nation to which it gives the uncertain price, the lower the price of exchange is, the more it is to the advantage of England; as for instance, giving to Spain 35*d.* for their piastre or dollar, instead of giving 36*d.* to 38*d.*; giving 60*d.* to Portugal for the milrea, instead of giving 66*d.*; the same with Italy, &c. the contrary to be observed in drawing. It is to be remarked that the course of exchange governs the entire sum which is to be negotiated; and although it would appear, at the place which gives the certain price, that the fluctuation falls altogether upon the other, yet it is not so, as it falls equally on both; for one may as well say that 100*l.* sterling is only equal to 106*l.* Irish, when the exchange is 6 per cent. (though the par is 108*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*) as that 100*l.* sterling is equal in value to 112*l.* Irish, when the exchange is 12 per cent. and so of other exchanges.

The certain price always rises in its value as the course is above or below par, and the uncertain price fluctuates in value the contrary way. As banco money of Holland is always better than cash or current money, so there is usually a difference of from $1\frac{1}{8}$ to $5\frac{3}{8}$ per cent. which is called the agio, and fluctuates.

In the Appendix to this work, it is presumed that the table of East and West India Currencies, and those of the United States of America, &c. will be found both useful and perfectly correct.

There are six days' grace.

AUGSBURG.

The usance of this place is fifteen days.—1½ usance is 23 days, 2 usances are 30 days after sight.

The payment of bills is made here every Tuesday, and what is not settled on that day, by balancing accounts, must be paid on the Wednesday following.

Thus, bills due on a Tuesday have but one day's grace, whereas bills due on Wednesday enjoy 8 days, being paid only the next Wednesday. Bills drawn, payable on a certain day, or at sight, must be paid 24 hours after presentation.

COPENHAGEN.

There is no usance on this place, and bills drawn on it are fixed to pay at sight, on a certain day, or so many months after date. Copenhagen draws on Altona, Amsterdam, and Hamburg, at 14 days' sight, and 2 months' date; on London and Paris at two months, both after date and sight. There are 8 and 10 days' grace.

days' date. Naples, 34 days' date. Rome, 21 days' date. Turin, 15 days' sight. Venice, 5 days' sight. There are no days of grace allowed in this place.

NAPLES.

The usance of bills drawn here on Bari and Lecce, is 15 days after sight. On Genoa, 22 days after sight. On Leghorn and Rome, 20 days' date; and Venice, 15 days after acceptance. The usance of bills drawn on Naples, is, from Rome, Genoa, Leghorn, Venice, and Sicily, 22 days after acceptance. From places in the kingdom of Naples the usance is 15 days after acceptance. The acceptance always takes place the next following Saturday after the arrival of the post, and you cannot protest before that day. Bills at sight must be paid 24 hours after presentation. Bills at few days' sight or date, must be accepted on the day of presentation, and be paid, when due, without waiting for the next Saturday. Bills drawn at 2 usances, are due 37 days after acceptance. The reason is, that, in fact, the usance was 15 days, and not 22 days; but the merchants agreed to add 7 days to the period of each bill. Thus, 2 usances are 30 days, and the 7 days more make 37 days for 2 usances. Therefore, bills at 3 usances would be due 52 days after acceptance.

PALERMO and MESSINA.

The usance of bills drawn on these places from Naples, Ancona, Rome, and Venice, is 21 days' sight; and from every other part of Italy, 15 days' sight. From France, 30 days' after date. On Naples, Rome, and Venice, from 8 to 15 days' sight.

PARIS, BOURDEAUX, and LYONS.

The usance in France is, for bills drawn in Spain and Portugal, 60 days; and from other countries, 30 days. There are 10 days of grace, in which the day, when due, is not included. Paris and Bourdeaux draw on Amsterdam, Cadiz, Madrid, Genoa, Hamburg, Leghorn, and London, at 60 days' date. Marseilles equally so, except on Genoa at 30 days', and on Leghorn and Naples at 45 days' date.—There are 4 fairs at Lyons, in which, generally, all the payments of bills on that place become due. The time when bills must be paid is called Payements, and commences in

1st fair	1st March.	} The acceptance of all bills, pay- able in these fairs, must be obtained
2d fair	1st June.
3d fair	1st September.
4th fair	1st December.

between the 1st and the 6th of the month; and, after the latter day, you may either protest for non-acceptance, or wait till the last day of the month, when you may protest at once for non-acceptance and non-payment. From the 16th of the month of the fair the merchants settle their accounts by writing to and from, which is called les Visements des Parties. This lasts till the end of the month, and what is not then settled and written off or balanced, must be paid in cash 3 days after the fair, or on the last day of the month.

PETERSBURG, MOSCOW, and ARCHANGEL,

Draw on Amsterdam and Hamburg at 65 days', and on London at 3 months' date. Bills drawn on Russia, and when generally run at so many days' date, have 10 days' grace; those at so many days' sight, have only 3 days; and those at sight, or few days after sight, have no days' grace: but bills that are presented after they are due, have the full 10 days' grace. In Russia they still continue to observe the old stile; therefore 12 days must be added to the date of bills drawn thence. There is no direct exchange on Petersburg, but inland bills are generally paid the Saturday after they become due.

RIGA

Draws on Amsterdam and Hamburg at 36 and 65 days' date. On London, at 3 months' date. And, for the rest, has the same rules as Russia.

ROME.

The usance is 15 days' sight, as well for bills drawn from this place as drawn on it. The payment is always on a Saturday; so that if a bill be presented on that day, it must be paid only 3 weeks after; and, if accepted on a Friday, it will have to run 21 days. Rome draws on London at 3 months' date. On Paris, 35 or 40 days' date. On Amsterdam, Spain, and Portugal, 2 months' date. On Florence, Genoa, and Venice, 10 days' sight. There are no days of grace at Rome.

ROTTERDAM.—See Amsterdam.

SPAIN.

The usance of bills drawn on Spain is 60 days' after date. For French bills, only 1 month. Bills drawn in Spain have 8 days' grace, and bills drawn in foreign countries on Spain, have 14 days' grace. Bills at sight must be paid when presented, or they must be protested. Bills not accepted have no days' grace, but must be protested when due. Cadiz allows only 6 days' grace. Spain draws on Amsterdam, Genoa, Hamburg, Lisbon, Leghorn, London, Naples, Paris, and Venice, at 2 and 3 months. Cadiz draws on all those places at 90 days' date, except on Amsterdam, which is at 2 months' date only.

ST. GALL.

The usance is the same as in Augsburg, 15 days after acceptance. There are no days of grace. Bills must be paid within 24 hours after they are due. St. Gall draws on Amsterdam and London at 2 and 3 months' date. On France, at 2 months. On Genoa and Milan, 1 month after date. On Augsburg, 15 days. Botzen and Frankfort-on the Main, payable in the fair.

STOCKHOLM and GOTHENBURG.

The usance in Sweden is 1 month after sight. All bills except those at sight, or at two and three days' sight, have 6 days' grace. Sweden draws on Amsterdam at 35, 40, 65, and 70 days' date. On Hamburg, 37, and 65 days', or 1 and 2 months' date. On London, 45 and 70 days' date. On Spain, France, Lisbon, and Leghorn, at 2 and 3 months' date.

TURIN.

The usance of bills drawn from France is 1 month after date. From England, 3 months. From Holland, the Netherlands, Hamburg, Bremen, Spain, and Portugal, 2 months' date. From Rome, Naples, Sicily, and Ancona, 21 days' sight. From Bergamo, Bologna, Venice, and Tuscany 15 days' sight. From Genoa and Milan, 8 days' sight. From all Germany, 15 days' sight. A bill after date, or at a fixed period, must be presented at least within 2 months of its date, otherwise it is looked upon as a fault of the holder, and he must stand the consequences. The same rule is adopted with bills after sight. There are 5 days allowed, at the option of a holder of a bill, to wait with the protest; and, if the 5th day fall on a holiday, he can only demand the payment the next day, or have the bill protested. It is the custom here to pay bills due, the first 3 days of the week, on Thursday, and those due the last 3 days of the week, on the next Monday.

VENICE.

The usance at this place is for bills from Hamburg, Holland, the Netherlands, and Spain, 2 months' date. Lisbon and London, 3 months. Milan, Bergamo, Cremona, Reggio, Brescia, Ceneda, Conigliano, Este, Lodi, Mantua, Modena, Vicenza, Verona, Udine, 20 days' date. Padua, Parma, Piacenza, and Ostia, 20 days' sight. Germany, Turin, Geneva, Genoa, Naples, Sicily, Switzerland, Nocera, Navarra, Otrando, Roveredo, and Lauriano, 15 days' sight. Rome, Ancona, Foligno, Fano, 10 days' sight. Leghorn, Bologna, Ferrara, Lucca, Pisa, Sienna, 5 days' sight. There are 6 days of grace.

VIENNA.

The usance of this place is 14 days after acceptance. There are 3 days of grace, except on bills that are drawn at less than seven days' sight. Vienna draws on Amsterdam and Hamburg at 6 weeks' and at 2 months' date. On Augsburg, Genoa, Leghorn, Milan, and Venice, at 4 weeks' date. Constantinople at 31 days' sight. On London at 2 or 3 months' date. On Paris at 6, 7, or 8 weeks' date. It is customary here for every one to pay his acceptances with bills due; and it often happens that bills run 4, 6, and 8 weeks above their time. As soon as a person has such bill 24 hours in his possession, the last that paid it away is no longer responsible for the payment, and the holder must look to the acceptor alone.
